Continue the conversation: intersections of the arts, humanities & social sciences with medicine and bioscience at Stanford

Monday January 13, 5:30p – 7p
Clark Center Auditorium, downstairs below courtyard

For Whom Do We Write?
Danielle Ofri, MD, PhD, D Litt (hon), FACP, Editor-in-Chief, Bellevue Literary Review
Associate Professor of Medicine, New York University School of Medicine

Monday January 27, 5:30p – 7p
ALWAY Building Lecture Hall M-114

Freedom to Vape: Marketing E-Cigarettes to Non-Smokers and Smokers
Robert K. Jackler, MD
Edward C. and Amy H. Sewall Professor and Chair, Otorhinolaryngology
Co-Founder, Stanford Research into the Impact of Tobacco Advertising (SRITA)
Stanford School of Medicine

Tuesday February 18, 5:30p – 7p
Stanford Humanities Center Auditorium

Literature and Medicine at Life's End – A Conversation with Sunita Puri and Alvan A. Ikoku
Sunita Puri, MD, MS, Clinical Fellow, Palliative Medicine, Stanford University Hospital & Clinics
Alvan A. Ikoku, MD, PhD, Mellon Fellow, Comparative Literature & Humanities Center, Stanford

contact imgeno@stanford.edu for inquiries regarding recommended readings (Selzer: Mercy stories)

Open to the public

Arts, Humanities and Medicine Program