

SECOND ANNUAL KALANITHI AWARD

The Palliative Care Section is pleased to announce a solicitation for unpublished short stories, essays or poems addressing patients and providers facing chronic or life limiting illness.

Paul Kalanithi passed too soon, but left a wonderful legacy in the form of his bestselling memoir, When Breath Becomes Air. His creativity and commitment to finding meaning in the experience of illness inspired this award.

CONTEST RULES

Short Stories/Essays:

Less than 4000 words

Poems:

Less than 50 lines

Judges:

Stanford faculty including

Lucy Kalanithi and Abraham Verghese

3 Winners:

Published in

Pegasus Review *

OPEN TO ALL

Stanford affiliates encouraged, but anybody can submit!

DUE DATE

December 1, 2017

SUBMIT TO

pamanda@stanford.edu

AWARD

Honorarium made possible by the generosity of a Stanford Palliative Care benefactor

*Subject to editorial review