Faculty Roster Key Terms

Physician Faculty Instructions

List the faculty who have a significant role in the education of residents and fellows. Faculty must have the authority to instruct and supervise. All faculty must:

- Be role models of professionalism
- Demonstrate commitment to the delivery of high-quality, patient-centered care
- Demonstrate a strong interest in the education of residents and fellows
- Devote sufficient time to the education of residents and fellows, including supervisory and teaching responsibilities
- Administer and maintain an educational program that is effective to educating residents
- Regularly participate in medical rounds, journal clubs, and conferences
- Pursue faculty development activities to enhance their skills at least annually
- Establish and maintain a program of research, quality improvement, and scholarship

Faculty may be designated as core faculty at the discretion of the program director. Core faculty must have a significant role in the education of residents and fellows and must devote a significant portion of their entire effort to resident/fellow education and/or research. Core faculty must also participate in the education of residents and fellows as a component of their activities, teach, evaluate, and provide formative feedback to residents and fellows.

COVID-19 Impact on Education/Curriculum

During the pandemic, did you use a platooning system in your program?

“Platooning” is a two-team system that helps residents/fellows provide clinical care while ensuring the maintenance of a healthy workforce. Residents/fellows are divided into two groups: “active duty” and “working remotely”. Active duty residents/fellows participate in all clinical care activities. Residents/fellows designated as working remotely participate in educational activities such as didactics, online modules, study, scholarly activities, and quality improvement projects.
