

Wednesday, May 2, 2018
Department of Neurology & Neurological Sciences
Presents

Career Development Awardees Mini-Symposium

8:30 a.m. Dr. Beth Mormino, PhD: Alzheimer's disease genetic risk factors in older individuals without dementia

9:05 a.m. Dr. Karen Hirsch, MD: Post-cardiac arrest brain injury: using quantitative EEG and functional MRI to predict outcome and personalize resuscitation

9:45 a.m. Dr. Paul George, MD, PhD: Regenerative engineering to enhance neural recovery

10:30 a.m. Dr. Fiona Baumer, MD: Cortical excitability, synaptic plasticity, and learning in benign epilepsy with centrotemporal spikes

11:05 a.m. Dr. Keith Van Haren, MD: The human vitamin D transcriptome tells an unexpected story

8:30 - 11:45 a.m | May 2, 2018
LKSC 101/102

Light breakfast will be available

Hosted by:
Dr. Katrin Andreasson, M.D.
Professor and Vice Chair of Research
Department of Neurology and Neurological Sciences

