Clinician Educator in Head & Neck Medical Oncology
Division of Oncology, Department of Medicine

The Division of Oncology in the Department of Medicine at Stanford University is seeking a board-certified or eligible head and neck medical oncologist in the Clinician/Educator Line, based at Stanford Health Care.

The successful candidate will be expected to participate in multiple weekly outpatient clinics and multidisciplinary Tumor Boards and to attend on the Oncology inpatient service or Oncology consult service. He/she may pursue research in clinical trials and will participate in the division’s teaching activities.

The major criterion for appointment, reappointment, and promotion for Clinician Educators is excellence in the overall mix of clinical care and clinical teaching appropriate to the programmatic need the individual is expected to fulfill.

Candidates must have an MD and be board certified or eligible in Oncology/Hematology. Rank will be based on qualifications and experience.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. It welcomes nominations of and applications from women and members of minority groups, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university’s research, teaching and clinical missions.

Candidates should submit a brief letter of interest and curriculum vitae to:

Margaret Wootton
Head and Neck Oncology C/E Search
Division of Oncology
265 Campus Drive, Room G2103
Stanford, CA 94305-5456

Email: margaret.wootton@stanford.edu.