Clinician Educator in Breast Oncology
Division of Oncology, Department of Medicine

The Division of Oncology in the Department of Medicine at Stanford University is seeking a board-certified or eligible medical oncologist in the Clinician/Educator Line, based at Stanford Health Care’s Palo Alto and South Bay cancer centers.

The successful candidate will see breast cancer patients in 3-4 full-day weekly outpatient clinics and participate in the breast cancer tumor board. In addition, he/she will attend on the Oncology inpatient service for 2-4 weeks annually and attend on the Oncology consult service for 2 weeks annually. He/she will participate in clinical trials as Stanford continues to develop its breast cancer program and will contribute to the division’s teaching activities.

The major criterion for appointment, reappointment, and promotion for Clinician Educators is excellence in the overall mix of clinical care and clinical teaching appropriate to the programmatic need the individual is expected to fulfill.

Candidates must have an MD and be board certified or eligible in Oncology/Hematology. Rank will be based on qualifications and experience.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford also welcomes applications from others who would bring additional dimensions to the University’s research, teaching and clinical missions.

Candidates should submit a brief letter of interest and curriculum vitae to:

Margaret Wootton
Breast Oncology C/E Search
Division of Oncology
265 Campus Drive, Room G2103
Stanford, CA 94305-5456

Email: margaret.wootton@stanford.edu.