Geriatric Psychiatrist

Inpatient and/or Outpatient Services

Clinical Assistant Professor, Clinical Associate Professor, or Clinical Professor

Division of General Psychiatry and Psychology

Section of Geriatric Psychiatry

Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences

Stanford University School of Medicine

The Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Stanford University School of Medicine is seeking a full-time faculty member to provide clinical care and teaching with a focus on Geriatric Psychiatry. Clinical care and teaching may be provided in inpatient and/or outpatient settings, with the relative balance of work to be mutually agreed upon depending on interest and need. Inpatient work consists of serving as the Attending for the Geriatric Psychiatry Inpatient Service (the number of weeks of attending coverage to be mutually agreed upon). Outpatient work consists of providing supervision of trainees (General Psychiatry residents and Geriatric Psychiatry Fellows), as well as a limited, and very flexible, amount of direct patient care. This position is ideal for a candidate who enjoys working with trainees and thrives in a team-based environment. Many opportunities exist for teaching, quality improvement work, scholarly work, and research collaboration.

Physician applicants must have a medical degree or equivalent degree, completed training in General Psychiatry, be board-certified in General Psychiatry and board-certified or board-eligible in Geriatric Psychiatry, and possess or be fully eligible for a California medical license.

Rank and salary will be commensurate with experience.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching and clinical missions.

Interested candidates should send a cover letter and current curriculum vitae to:
