The Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Stanford University School of Medicine is seeking a full-time faculty member in the Clinician Educator line at the rank of Clinical Instructor or Clinical Assistant Professor, to conduct clinical care and teaching in the Division of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences.

The chosen candidate will serve as an attending psychiatrist and provide clinical care. The position includes; (1) 50% attending on the Pediatric Psychiatry Consult Service at the Lucile Packard Children’s Hospital at Stanford and (2) 50% with the Pediatric Acute-Onset Neuropsychiatric Syndrome (PANS) Clinic.

The hospital is scheduled to continue expanding in the next few years and the candidate will have the opportunity for program development in the new pediatric hospital. Major teaching responsibilities will be fulfilled as part of the regular clinical activities, and include supervision and didactics to medical students, residents, and fellows. Clinical research opportunities are also available.

Applicants must have a medical degree or equivalent degree and possess or be fully eligible for a California medical license. Applicants should have experience in Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and either be Board Eligible or Board Certified in Child and Adolescent Psychiatry. Outpatient and inpatient experience with PANS patients and consult-liaison service is desirable.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. It welcomes nominations of and applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities, as well as from others who would bring additional dimensions to the university’s research, teaching and clinical missions.

Interested candidates should send a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and three letters of reference via e-mail to:
