Terminal Graduate Registration (TGR) allows students to register at a reduced tuition rate while they work on a dissertation, thesis, or department project. Students registered in TGR status must enroll each quarter in a TGR course, either 801 or 802. Submit the petition prior to the beginning of the quarter for which the request is being made. Students with more than one graduate degree program must complete their total residency for all programs in order to apply for TGR status.

To be completed by student and department: indicate degree program for which TGR status is requested, and verify eligibility.

- Ph.D.
  - Satisfactory completion of all courses on the Application for Candidacy; if the program has changed, an Academic Program Revision form must be approved by the department.
  - 135 completed units of residency prior to TGR start quarter and completed residency requirement for all active and completed degree programs.
  - Submission of Doctoral Dissertation Reading Committee form to the department

- Engineer
  - Satisfactory completion of all courses on the Application for Candidacy; if the program has changed, an Academic Program Revision form must be approved by the department.
  - Accrual of 90 completed units of residency prior to TGR start quarter and completed residency requirement for all active and completed degree programs.

- M.A./M.S.
  - Satisfactory completion of all courses on the Program Proposal for a Master’s Degree; if the program has changed, an Academic Program Revision form must be approved by the department.
  - Accrual of completed 45 units of residency (or 3 terms for students on term-based residency) prior to TGR start quarter and completed residency requirement for all active and completed degree programs.
  - This master's program requires project or thesis (“Thesis etc.” milestone, entered by department)

- Final Registration
  - May be granted for one quarter only to a graduate student who is returning after reinstatement, working on incompletes in his or her final quarter, or registering for one final term after all requirements are completed when Graduation Quarter is not applicable.
