AWARDEE RESPONSIBILITIES

The PI will take responsibility for the research idea, development methods, supervision and conduct of the study in addition to the following:

- Member of MCHRI, keep Stanford Medicine Profile (formerly-CAP) updated, and utilize “Permit PubMed Import” feature.

¹ Transdisciplinary is defined as heterogeneous groups of scholars who transform one another’s perspectives on a problem; it is more than an amalgamation of disciplines or a series of tasks done by different labs, but rather a synthesis of ideas that creates new learning

² “Child” or “Children” refers to the expectant mother, oocyte, zygote, embryo, fetus, infant, child and adolescent.

- Submit reports in a timely manner, including an annual Progress and Financial Report, and a Final Progress and Financial Report within 30 days of the award end date.
- Provide updates in all Progress Reports on funding status from external and/or internal sources.
- Submit progress reports for up to 3 years following the award end date that will include information about grants submitted, publications, employment, and new research funding resulting from this award.
- Present the results of their research when asked.
- Acknowledge the research support of the Stanford Maternal and Child Health Research Institute in all publications, abstracts, presentations, press releases, and inventions resulting from this award as follows:

“The project described in this publication was supported by the Stanford Maternal and Child Health Research Institute.”

MCHRI award recipients who have not acknowledged MCHRI are not eligible for future awards sponsored by the MCHRI.

TERM OF AWARD

All awardees are limited to a single award of up to 2 years. Should there be a change in the awardee’s role that significantly alters their ability to carry out their responsibilities, the award will be forfeited prior to the completion of the term. However, if there have been unusual occurrences then the awardee may request a deferral or leave of absence from the award; this request will be adjudicated by the Director of the MCHRI. If a deferral is approved, the end date of this award will be adjusted accordingly by MCHRI administration.
