Continue the conversation: intersections of the arts, humanities & social sciences with medicine and bioscience at Stanford

Thursday April 17, 6:30p – 8p
Cantor Arts Center MEET in AUDITORIUM 1st Floor, exhibit is in: Halperin Gallery (Changing Exhibitions) 2nd floor
Inside Rodin’s Hands: Teaching Surgery Through Art and Anatomy
James Chang, MD, Chief, Division of Plastic & Reconstructive Surgery
Professor of Surgery (Plastic, Orthopedic, Hand, Microsurgery), Stanford School of Medicine

Tuesday April 29, 5:30p – 7p
CCRMA The Knoll Building Stage 3rd Floor
On Music from the Brain
The Brain Stethoscope in Clinical and Musical Applications
Chris Chafe, DMA, Duca Family Professor, Music, Director CCRMA, Stanford University
Josef Parvizi, MD, Associate Professor, Neurology, Stanford School of Medicine

Open to Stanford students, faculty and staff
Arts, Humanities and Medicine Program,
Stanford Center for Biomedical Ethics
Contact: AHMProgram@stanford.edu