FACULTY DISCLOSURE
The Stanford University School of Medicine adheres to ACCME Criteria, Standards and Policies regarding industry support of continuing medical education. Disclosure of faculty and their commercial relationships will be made prior to the activity.

Sponsored by the Stanford University School of Medicine
This CME activity seeks to fulfill the educational needs of primary care practitioners who manage patients with heart disease. The goal of the conference is to address identified clinical challenges, to update practitioners on the latest advances and best practices in cardiac care, and to assist practitioners in developing strategies to apply this knowledge to the diagnosis, treatment and/or referral of patients with Cardiovascular Disease. Lectures with question and answer sessions will afford learners the opportunity to discuss practice dilemmas with expert faculty.

TARGET AUDIENCE (Who Should Attend)
This is a local/regional program, designed for:
- Cardiologists
- Family Practitioners
- Primary Care Practitioners
- Internists
- Nurses
- Allied Health Professionals

LEARNING OBJECTIVES
At the conclusion of this activity, learners will be able to:
- Apply evidence-based recommendations and guidelines for the indication and interpretation of EKGs for coronary heart disease (CHD).
- Apply evidence-based recommendations for the indication and risks of both anticoagulation and left atrial appendage device occlusion.
- Discuss the rationale and guidelines for congestive heart failure (CHF) management.
- Consider the higher risk cardiovascular disease (CVD) in patients with oncologic disease.
- Incorporate the new guidelines for Drug Antiplatelet Therapy (DAPT) use and management in patients with recent coronary stents.
- Implement appropriate work-up and therapies for patients with palpitations.
- Develop strategies to more aggressively control blood pressure (BP), especially for patients over the age of 60.

ACCREDITATION
The Stanford University School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

CREDIT DESIGNATION
The Stanford University School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 4.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The California Board of Registered Nursing recognizes that Continuing Medical Education (CME) is acceptable for meeting RN continuing education requirements as long as the course is certified for AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ (rn.ca.gov). Nurses will receive a Certificate of Participation following this activity that may be used for license renewal.

COMMERCIAL SUPPORT ACKNOWLEDGEMENT
This CME activity is supported in part by educational grants (and/or in-kind support). A complete list of commercial supporters will be published in the course syllabus.
