A Continuing Medical Education Activity
STATEMENT OF NEED
This CME activity seeks to provide pediatricians and family medicine physicians an update on orthopaedic/sports injuries that will help to improve their skills in evaluating and managing sports medicine injuries and increase their understanding of when it is appropriate to treat and when to refer. The course will utilize lectures, videos, and hands on demonstrations as teaching tools.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:
At the conclusion of this activity, learners will be able to:
• Assess pediatric and adolescent sports injuries through history and physical exam.
• Determine when to refer patients to a specialist.
• Incorporate higher acuity of care in the pediatric and adolescent athlete presenting with complex sports injury.
• Differentiate between a sports injury from burnout or overuse.
• Evaluate the youth with potential overuse and early specialization injuries and counsel patient and family.

TARGET AUDIENCE
This is a regional program designed for pediatricians, family physicians, primary care practitioners, nurse practitioners, nurses, allied health professionals, and athletic trainers.

ACCREDITATION AND DESIGNATION OF CREDIT
The Stanford University School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The Stanford University School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 6.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Nurses: The California Board of Registered Nursing recognizes that Continuing Medical Education (CME) is acceptable for meeting RN continuing education requirements as long as the course is certified for AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ (rn.ca.gov). Nurses will receive a Certificate of Participation following this activity that may be used for license renewal.

COURSE CANCELLATION AND REFUND POLICY
Registration fees, less a $25.00 administrative charge, are refundable if written cancellation is received prior to 9/1/2017. No refunds will be given for cancellations received after this date or for conference non-attendance. We reserve the right to cancel or postpone any activity if necessary. In such case, full refund of registration fees will be given. We are not responsible for other costs incurred such as non-refundable airline tickets or hotel penalties.

COMMERCIAL SUPPORT ACKNOWLEDGEMENT
This CME activity received no commercial support.
