Eyes, Ears, Nose and Throat: Pediatric Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology

February 2-3, 2018
The Fairmont Sonoma Mission Inn
Sonoma, CA

The Pediatric Divisions of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology at the Stanford University School of Medicine and Lucile Packard Children’s Hospital Stanford present a Continuing Medical Education conference

Sponsored by the Stanford University School of Medicine

A Continuing Medical Education Activity
Statement of Need
The goal of this CME course is to provide current, up-to-date clinical advances in pediatric ophthalmology and otolaryngology. The faculty will present a variety of topics in lectures and panels that will include, in part, such topics as: vision and hearing screening, foreign bodies in the eyes, ears, nose and throat, swallowing disorders, red eye, epiphora, tongue tie and ocular trauma. Also covered will be epistaxis, sleep apnea and construction of the ear and ear canal. This course is designated to change learner competence and performance-in-practice.

Target Audience
This is a program, designed for:
- Pediatricians
- Family physicians
- Primary care practitioners
- Nurse practitioners
- Nurses
- Allied health professionals

Learning Objectives:
At the conclusion of this activity, learners will be able to:
- Differentiate between epiphora and dacryocystitis.
- Perform an accurate visual screening on the infant including an assessment of overall quality of the child’s vision, eye alignment and structural features of the eye.
- Diagnose and effectively treat the child with orbital cellulitis.
- Assess the infant’s or child’s hearing and identify any hearing loss utilizing the EHDI 1-3-6 Guidelines from the AAP.
- Develop a strategy for the treatment of recurrent epistaxis.
- Develop appropriate technique to conduct a thorough examination of the ear and efficiently remove any foreign body.
- Diagnose and effectively treat obstructive sleep apnea in the infant and child.
- Describe two conditions which can result from ankyloglossia (tongue tie).

Room reservations should be made directly with the Fairmont Sonoma Mission Inn and as early as possible. Please mention “Stanford Children’s Health Conference” to receive the group rate. Please call the hotel directly at 1-800-441-1414 or visit https://aws.passkey.com/go/stanfordpedseyeto for room reservations.

Cancellation of individual reservations made up to 5 days prior to arrival will be accepted, and the deposit refunded for those rooms for the full night’s stay. Any no-shows, early departures, or other reductions to length of stay from 5 days prior to arrival will also forfeit full room and tax.

Cancellation and Refund Policy – Course Registration
Registration fees, less a $50.00 administrative charge, are refundable if written cancellation is received prior to January 22, 2018. No refunds will be given for cancellations received after this date or for conference non-attendance. We reserve the right to cancel or postpone any activity if necessary. In such case, full refund of registration fees will be given. We are not responsible for other costs incurred such as non-refundable airline tickets or hotel penalties.

Special Needs
Lucile Packard Children’s Hospital Stanford is committed to making its activities accessible to all individuals. If you have needs that require special accommodations, including dietary concerns, please call the continuing medical education department at (650) 498-6757 before 1/19/18.

Accreditation and Designation of Credits
The Stanford University School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The Stanford University School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 11.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Nurses: The California Board of Registered Nursing recognizes that Continuing Medical Education (CME) is acceptable for meeting RN continuing education requirements as long as the course is certified for AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™(rn.ca.gov). Nurses will receive a Certificate of Participation following this activity that may be used for license renewal.
