

Marisa Desimone, MD

Associate Professor of Medicine
SUNY Upstate Medical University

Dr. Marisa Desimone was born in Syracuse NY and is a graduate of LeMoyne College. She obtained her medical degree at SUNY Upstate Medical University. Her residency was at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center where she also completed her fellowship in Endocrinology, Diabetes and Metabolism. She currently practices in Syracuse, at the Joslin Center at SUNY Upstate Medical University.

Dr Desimone has particular interests in the use of technology for the delivery of healthcare and the endocrine complications of cystic fibrosis. In addition to her clinical practice she is the director of the Endocrinology Telemedicine program, and has been practicing telemedicine for the past nine years. She has been the director of the SUNY Upstate Medical University EndoEcho program since 2018.

In her free time, she enjoys reading, the outdoors and spending time with her husband and two children.