

Rohit Jain, MD

Assistant Professor of Medicine, Endocrinology
George Washington University

I completed medical school at Medical College, Calcutta, India. Subsequently I completed my residency in Internal Medicine and Endocrinology fellowship training at SUNY Upstate Syracuse, NY. I am ABIM board certified in Internal medicine and Endocrinology, Diabetes and Metabolism. I am an endocrinologist with special interest in Diabetes care and research in adults with diabetes mellitus. As faculty at George Washington University I am involved in training of medical students, residents and endocrinology fellows. We care for people in the Washington DC area and collaborate with community care providers across the National capital area to help improve access and quality to care for people with diabetes by initiatives including the ECHO model.
