“Autism through the Life Span”

SATURDAY, MARCH 21, 2020

Keynote Speakers:

Helen Tager-Flusberg, PhD, Boston University

Lauren Brookman- Frazee, PhD, UC San Diego

Laura Grofer Klinger, PhD, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

A one-day conference for parents, educators and care providers of children and adults with autism spectrum disorders. This annual update will focus on new research and services for individuals with autism to optimize their long term functioning.

Saturday, March 21, 2020
8:15am-4:30pm
Li Ka Shing Conference Center
291 Campus Drive
Stanford University, 94305

Cost: Early Bird Registration $100 (after 3/1, $125)

Register at: https://app.certain.com/profile/web/1157253

More info at https://med.stanford.edu/autismcenter/events.html

Scholarships available

Supported by The Teresa and Charles Michael Endowed Fund for Autism Research and Education