

Do you want to know your sperm count? Do you want to earn a few dollars? Are you of East Asian ancestry?

If so, we invite you to participate in our study to understand determinants of semen quality.

Our study, being conducted at Stanford University, seeks to understand determinants of semen quality. The only requirements include being over 18 years of age and being of Asian ancestry. Payment will include a $20 Amazon gift card. In order to obtain further information and to potentially participate in our study please email: aldhsemanstudy@stanford.edu.

For participant's rights questions, contact 1-866-680-2906.
