

Clinical (MD) Trainee -Internal Stanford funding opportunity in Maternal Child Health ***

Stanford Maternal and Child Health Research Institute Clinical Trainee (MD) Support

The Stanford Maternal and Child Health Research Institute (MCHRI) Clinical (MD) Trainee Support program is designed to create a pathway and provide support for training the next generation of physician scientists focused on maternal and child health.

AWARD

MCHRI Clinical (MD) Trainee Awards support MD (MD/PhD, DMD, or DO) fellows as follows:

- Provides up to 100% salary/fringe support for up to two years (non-competitive renewal for year 2).
- Supports 2nd and 3rd years of fellowship only (PGY5 and PGY6).
- Used for the fellows' remuneration and benefits (at the level determined appropriate for their specialty).

DEADLINE: Monday, March 25, 2024 @ 11:59 PM Pacific Time (PT) (no late applications will be accepted)

*Submit your proposals to the following link: ONLINE APPLICATION LINK, per the application instructions. You do not need to submit your applications via your RPM.

Complete application and guidelines here.

ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible for the award, the applicant must meet these criteria:

- Hold a medical (MD or equivalent) degree
- Have completed one year of training by the start of the award term
- Clinical primary location for seeing patients is at LPCHS
- Demonstrate a commitment to an investigative career in obstetrics, pediatrics, pediatric subspecialty, or subspecialty primarily focused on child health (e.g., pediatric surgery)
- Use the MCHRI funding for their 2nd and 3rd years of research training (PGY5 and PGY6) during which a minimum of 75% time is devoted to research
- Be a practitioner or scientist who has a focus on maternal or child health
- Primary research mentor may be from any research discipline
- Primary research mentor must be a member of the MCHRI*
- Non-ACGME fellows are eligible provided all other criteria are met

*Apply for MCHRI Membership here.

Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Justice (DEIJ)

MCHRI is committed to advancing diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice in all aspects of our work supporting research, education, and resources in maternal and child health.

All applicants will be asked to provide a DEIJ statement in their application.

TIMELINE

Awards will be announced in June 2024. Award Period: July 1, 2024 to June 30, 2025.

NOMINATION

MCHRI Research Fellows must be nominated by their Division Chief or Department Chair. The nominator's letter will verify that:

- The applicant will spend a minimum of 75% of their time devoted to research during their years funded by the MCHRI fellowship,
- And, that failure to maintain this commitment will result in forfeiture of the award and financial recovery of the award from the nominating Division or Department.

ADDITIONAL FELLOWSHIP OPPORTUNITY: PEDIATRIC SUBSPECIALTY GLOBAL HEALTH

MCHRI is administering Stanford's NIH T32 Subspecialty Global Health Fellowship. The fellowship is for up to three years of up to 100% salary and includes master's tuition support for up to 8 quarters. It also includes a travel budget for fellows to conduct biannual site visits and international conferences where they present their work. The individuals will be identified as the T32 Pediatric Subspecialty Global Health Fellows. His/her/their clinical activity can be in any discipline involving children's health. Any fellow whose research will be in pediatric global health should apply. Applications require the same documents as required for a fellow applying for both clinical trainee support and master's tuition program. Letter of support from the Division Chief should include attestation of 75% protected research time, scheduling to accommodate master's coursework, required short courses and seminars, and biannual site visits. Applicants not selected may still be considered for MCHRI fellowship or masters tuition funding.

Please contact Peter Meaney (meaneypa@stanford.edu) or Diane Stafford (dejs@stanford.edu), if you have questions about the Pediatric Subspecialty Global Health Fellowship.

CONTACT

Questions: Please email mchri_admin@stanford.edu or call 650-724-0279.

Institutional representative: not applicable. These programs are internal Stanford funding opportunities. Please do not submit your proposal through your institutional official for approval. You may submit your proposal directly to MCHRI via their online application link. PI Waivers are not required.