PROPOSAL REQUIREMENTS

Biostatistical Analysis

A statistical analysis plan is required for all human-based studies and those with power calculations.

As part of a partnership with the Stanford Quantitative Sciences Unit (QSU), MCHRI grant applicants may request data sciences resources as needed to support the success of their research project. Their expertise is available for study design, the development of grant proposals, and implementation of funded projects. The QSU will hold office hours for MCHRI applicants. Click here to submit a request directly to the QSU. Request QSU Office Hours at least 8 weeks in advance of a submission deadline. The QSU may not be able to accommodate Office Hours requests within the 8-week window.

Upon creation of an Online Application Record by the applicant, the Primary Research Mentor will receive an automated email with a unique link to complete the Mentor Support Form. For further instructions on the Mentor Support Form please go here. Applicants should not include a letter of support from their mentor in lieu of or in addition to the online support form.

Letters of Support

- Letters of support are required from all listed non-primary research mentor(s), co-investigator(s), and collaborator(s)

REVIEW CRITERIA

Review is based on (1) relevance to maternal and child health and (2) NIH Investigator-initiated Review Criteria:

- 1. Significance.* Does this study address an important [maternal and child<sup>1</sup> health] problem? If the aims are achieved, how will scientific knowledge or clinical practice be advanced? What will be the effect of these studies on the concepts, methods, technologies, treatments, services, or preventions that drive this field?
- 2. Approach.* Are the conceptual or clinical framework, design, methods, and analyses adequately developed, well integrated, well-reasoned, and appropriate to the aims of the project? Does the applicant acknowledge potential problem areas and consider alternative tactics?
- 3. Innovation.* Is the project original and innovative? For example: Does it challenge existing paradigms or clinical practice or address an innovative hypothesis or critical barrier to progress in the field? Does the project develop or use novel concepts, approaches, methods, tools, or technologies?
- 4. Investigators.* Are the investigators appropriately trained and well suited to carry out this work? Is the work proposed appropriate to the experience level of the principal investigator and other researchers? Does the investigative team bring complementary and integrated expertise to the project (if applicable)?

5. Environment. Does the scientific environment contribute to the probability of success? Do the studies benefit from unique features of the scientific environment or subject populations or use useful collaborative arrangements? Is there evidence of institutional support?
