

The Stanford PCPH Foundations of Academic Clinical Excellence and Transformation (FACET) Faculty Development Fellowship

FACET is a professional development fellowship that provides 12.5% funding for eight fellows for one year starting October 2024; the whole experience is a 2-year long program that is designed to provide early career faculty with the ecosystem awareness and navigation, practical skills, community, and connections to help launch their careers in PCPH and at Stanford.

These foundational elements will have practical application in projects that will start in early 2025 and extend through the next academic year.

SKILLS DEVELOPMENT

- Stanford Medicine and PCPH ecosystem navigation
- Connect as a member of a group or groups within PCPH
- Find resources and opportunities within and external to Stanford
- Develop or expand an academic area of focus and individual scholarship
- Practice cross-disciplinary collaboration
- Initiate or accelerate change in PCPH and/or Stanford more broadly
- How to apply for and secure funding in an area of interest
