

Dr Fozia Hayat
FRCA MBChB BMedSci

Fozia Hayat, FRCA, MBChB, BMedSci, is a consultant anaesthetist at the Bradford Teaching Hospital NHS Foundation Trust. She has an interest in quality improvement, medical education and developing world anaesthesia. She is particularly interested in transforming both the health and economical prospects of young people in Bradford and beyond. She also has a keen interest in the virtual world and technology, having completed modules in IT at the University of St Andrews before entering medical studies. She is also a member of the operational group for the new "Digital Makers" research project at the Bradford Institute for Health Research.