Consultation-Liaison Psychiatrist – Integrated Behavioral Health Service

Clinical Assistant, Clinical Associate Professor, or Clinical Professor

Division of Medical Psychiatry

Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences

Stanford University School of Medicine

The Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Stanford University School of Medicine is seeking a full-time faculty member in the Clinical Educator Line to provide subspecialty psychiatric evaluation and treatment for patients in our Integrated Behavioral Health Service within the Division of Medical Psychiatry. Integrated behavioral health care provides an “advanced patient-centered medical home” through blended patient care in one setting for medical conditions and related behavioral health factors that affect health and well-being. This service line is fully integrated within the Primary Care Medicine Program and includes extensive teaching opportunities with Palliative Medicine fellows and Consultation-Liaison fellows, as well as Internal Medicine and Family Medicine residents.

Faculty rank will be determined by the qualifications and experience of the successful candidate. Appointments to the Clinician Educator faculty line are primarily defined by engagement in clinical care and teaching that advances clinical medicine, in addition to opportunities to engage in scholarly activities and/or administrative leadership.

Applicants must have a medical degree or equivalent degree, completed training in General Psychiatry, possess or be fully eligible for a California medical license, be board-certified or board-eligible in General Psychiatry, and be board-certified or board-eligible in Consultation-Liaison Psychiatry.

The Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, School of Medicine, and Stanford University value faculty who are committed to advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion. Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University’s research, teaching, and clinical missions.
