CHILD PSYCHOLOGIST
CLINICIAN EDUCATOR FACULTY LINE
DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHIATRY AND BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES
STANFORD UNIVERSITY

The Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at Stanford University School of Medicine is currently recruiting a child psychologist with clinical activities in the Mood Disorders Clinic in the Division of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry. The Mood Clinic provides initial evaluation and evidence-based treatment to children, adolescents, and their families. Primary diagnoses treated in the clinic include major depression and bipolar disorders as well as comorbid diagnoses. The role of the psychologist includes providing direct clinical care to children, adolescents, and their families as well as supervising child psychology postdoctoral fellows, child psychiatry fellows and psychology practicum students. Applicants should have expertise in providing evidence-based interventions such as cognitive behavioral treatment for mood disorders. Experience with DBT and PMT is desirable but not required.

Academic appointment will be on the Clinician Educator faculty line in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences. All applicants must be licensed or license-eligible in California. We are currently accepting applications and review will continue on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Appointment level will be commensurate with experience.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. It welcomes nominations of and applications from women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university’s research, teaching and clinical missions. Interested candidates should be licensed in the State of California or license eligible. A cover letter, current curriculum vitae, and three letters of reference should be sent via e-mail only to:
