IDP Task Force

Stanford BioSci Careers and the Advising Dean for Graduate Education & Postdoctoral Affairs invite you join the taskforce to re-envision the Biosciences Individual Development Planning (IDPs) process. We will evaluate current forms, policies, and programming to determine effectiveness and inclusive practice, then develop recommendations for improvements.

Details:

- Up to 10 hours of work is required over the course of about 6 months
- Work includes meetings, researching resources, and editing documents
- The taskforce includes faculty, students, and staff
- Students at all levels of their graduate training are considered
- You will be paid for your time

Current IDP practice information can be found here:
