The mission of the Stanford Center for Clinical Research (SCCR) includes offering educational resources, training, and support for investigators and research staff. We have invited SCCR's Quality and Compliance Manager, Kristin Anderberg, RN, BSN, to present you with quality incident reporting, and how it does differ from CAPA.

At the conclusion of this class, you will be able to:

- Understand Quality Incidents
- Recognize why quality incident reporting is important
- Identify how quality incident differ from CAPA
- Apply your learning to research

Attendance is open to all research staff

About the Instructor:

Kristin Anderberg, RN, BSN received her BSN from Emory University in Atlanta. Following graduation she worked in the pediatric cardiac ICU. She has over 30 years of research experience working for AROs and industry. Her knowledge extends to clinical trial management for global studies, GCP, compliance audits, regulatory agency inspections, clinical events classification, quality management of clinical trials, policy and procedure development. She currently works at SCCR as Quality and Compliance Manager, and her passion in research is quality, clinical events classification, and endpoint adjudication.
