

COVID-19 Testing for Essential Services/Businesses

To help flatten the curve and support first responders and essential workers, Stanford Medicine has launched:

- Drive-through testing sites.
- Prioritized testing and results.
- A smartphone app with the latest, most accurate information on COVID-19.

Testing is available to anyone working in a grocery store, gas station, restaurant or other business that remains open to provide services to the community and whose assessment recommends testing.

Download the app to be guided to testing

What is it? An application with informational resources and a self-screening tool that provides guidance for testing at a Stanford Medicine site.

How to get it: Download in the Apple App Store by searching:
“Stanford Medicine Covid19 Guide”
Or point your iPhone camera at this code:

Don't have an iOS device? Call 650-498-9000 to start your evaluation.

Note: According to federal law, individuals cannot be charged for out-of-pocket costs associated with COVID-19 assessment or testing.
