

Is this source credible?

The internet is full of some amazing resources and some not so amazing resources. Use this chart to figure out if you can trust your source.

	WEBSITE	AUTHOR	SOURCING
CREDIBLE	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> .org, .edu, or .gov Contains articles, critiques, & studies Hosted by a library or university  <small>Created by Gregor Cresnar from Noun Project</small>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Has published similar papers Well educated in the field Affiliated with credible organizations  <small>Created by Yef Babin from Noun Project</small>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Sites articles, critiques, & studies Sites sources correctly Includes references  <small>Created by AdamSmith.com from Noun Project</small>
NOT CREDIBLE	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> .com or .co Social media Hosted by a company  <small>Created by Symbolon from Noun Project</small>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> First publishing No formal education on the topic No affiliation with credible organizations  <small>Created by Icons from Noun Project</small>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Sites word of mouth Sites unreliable articles, websites, & papers References not included  <small>Created by Gregor Cresnar from Noun Project</small>